DEATH OF DR. ROLMES.

Oliver Wendell Holmes is dead. Without the Awkins went to the front and drew away semblance of a struggle or a pain, he passed Dr. Holmes, came from his Summer home at Beverly ten days ago, and while not quite in his secustomed health at that time, did not regard himself as ill, nor was he so regarded by his children and friends. For several years he had been a sufferer from asthms, and the day after his return to Boston, he had a particularly severs attack of this malady. It was the beginning of the end. Dr Holmes never left his bed again, for while the asthma was conquered, it left him in such a weakened condition that he never

Gradually and calmly he approached the dark river. Gradually and peacefully he waited for the end, knowing full well that it was near, for Dr. Chas. P. Putnam told the sufferer a week ago that it must come. Dr. Putnam had been the Holmes' family physician for years and knew his patient well. His practical eye saw the gradual breaking up that others could not see. Never robust, Dr. Holmes lived to the great age he did through baving taken the best of care of himself at all times. Dr. Potnam knew that when the final idness did come, it would not Primrose was the first to show in front to a be a long one. His last pall upon his patient was made at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. At that hour he found him little changed, except for the ever-growing weakness, so gradual and insudious in its work that even Dr. Potnam did not apprehend that the end was nearer than a day or two at least. At the strength of this Dr. Putcam went to Weymonth to attend a patient, first arranging with his brother, Dr. James Putuam, to call upon his patient during

> It was not until nearly noon that Dr. Holmes' attendant and family noticed any decided change in his condition. This was in the form of unusual exhaustion, and before any stimulating remedies could be administered. Dr. Holmes had become partially unconscious, his breath came shorter and shorter, and within the brief space of a quarter of an hour, the great post that all the world has loved was no more. Dr. Janes Putnam had been summoned upon the first intimation of a change and came at once, but only in time to see the great man's eyes close in death.

To-night the serenity and peace that always characterized Dr. Holmes, life was found about the house in which he lay dead, but none of the family was to be seen. Save for the faint sweet odour of flowers which pervaded the place, there was nothing to suggest a house of mourning. MARRIAGE OF GREMAN BOLDIEBS.

LONDON, 12th October. The Daily News comments to-day on a prospectus of a scheme for promoting Imperial federation. The scheme, which was formulated by a body of public men headed by Sir John Seeley, includes a proposal that courses of leo-tures on the expediency of Imperial Federation . be delivered in all the large towns of the United Kingdom and the colonies: "This is an excellent plan," says the News, "and appeals to all classes. Many of the lectures will be especially designed for workingmen's clubs. As yet no detailed plan of fateration has been prepared, but such an one will be formulated by degrees after full discussion. The promoters regard dertain principles as necessary to the bond of union, primarily the continuauce of our maritime supremany as the mainstay of our commerce." After remarking that the new soliems means
